TAG QUESTIONS

A tag question is a small question that is attached, or "tagged", to the end of a sentence. We use tag questions to confirm or check information or ask for agreement. We use tag questions to check whether something is true.

Tag questions are made using an auxiliary verb (for example be or have) and a subject pronoun (for example: I, you, she). Negative question tags are usually contracted: It's warm today, isn't it (not 'is it not')

Usually if the main clause is positive, the question tag is negative, and if the main clause is negative, it's positive. For example: It's warm (positive), isn't it (negative)? And: It isn't cold (negative), is it (positive)?

If the main clause has an auxiliary verb in it, you use the same verb in the tag question. If there is no auxiliary verb (in the present simple and past simple) use do / does / did (just like when you make a normal question).

However, there is one exception: the question tag after I am is aren't I. For example: I'm sitting next to you, aren't I?
